To whom it may concern:

I just want to take a few minutes to express our total satisfaction with the quality of workmanship that was done by Corcoran Construction on our recently completed sanctuary.

When this project was conceived about four years ago, we started looking at a number of builders but somehow we felt uncomfortable for one of two reasons. They were either too controlling and in the process made us to feel inadequate for the task, or they did not have a sufficiently impressive track record of successfully completed projects to give us a level of comfort.

Then we turned to Corcoran Construction. When we first met Lee Corcoran, what stood out immediately was his commitment to ministry and his willingness to work with us as a congregation. The day after we broke ground, Lee and members of his construction team were on site praying over the entire property as they committed its success to God.

During the construction phase, we encountered several major challenges that were enough to cause much discouragement, but Lee and his team were always there to help us find workable solutions. We are convinced that without the dedication and commitment shown by the Corcoran group, our project would have cost us significantly more and would have taken a longer time to complete.

On behalf of our entire congregation, I want to say a big thank you to Lee Corcoran and his staff for a job well done and it is my delight to recommend this fine organization to any ministry looking for a builder with integrity who can get the job done right.

Sincerely,

Dr. Whitfield D Blenman
